The Dental market in 2018

Key trends, activity and pricing
INTRODUCTION

Demand continues to outstrip supply and with good market liquidity supported by strong industry dynamics, activity remains strong across all price ranges.

As in previous years, demand is strongest in London and the South East, the Midlands and the North West, where population density is greatest. Scotland too is consolidating its position as a popular market with buyers moving north of the border to find better value acquisition opportunities.

Last year, Europe’s largest corporate provider, MyDentist, halted its acquisition programme to focus on the running of its UK-wide portfolio. In doing so, it identified a number of practices which were divested.

The corporate landscape has changed significantly since 2016 with a busy round of mergers and acquisitions affecting a number of the largest providers.

Since their 2016 second largest corporate dental provider was sold to Bupa. The sale increased the number of dental practices held by the international healthcare group to well in excess of 400, with further acquisitions recently completed including Avian Holdings, a group of 16 practices in England and Scotland and Meriden, two multi-location practices. Both acquisitions were brokered by Christie & Co.

Meanwhile, Jacobs Holding, the Zurich-based global investment firm, acquired Southern Dental, the UK’s fourth largest group with 79 practices. It also announced the acquisition of Scandinavian group Colosseum Dental in January, Swiss Smile in June, and further portfolio acquisitions in Finland and Italy, signalling a pan-European consolidation not previously seen in the dental sector.

There was further private equity (PE) activity in the UK with investments by CBPE Capital in Rodericks and by August Equity in its dental platform Genesis which is set to grow rapidly in the coming years. We are now seeing PE rapidly buying on both small groups and large individual practices.

Activity in the independent sector remains strong with smaller groups equally keen to acquire to benefit from a potential shift in tax multiples allowed through growth. A number of newly formed groups offering a ‘partnership’ model continue to expand and are becoming increasingly active.

Further down the market, independents were also expanding with multiple offers generated on most practices, particularly larger businesses in strategic locations.

Consolidation continues to be the key trend in 2018. The market remains strong and our brokerage and advisory teams are engaged in a number of prestigious assignments. We also undertook over 300 dental practice valuations on behalf of a wide variety of banks, reflecting the appetite to lend to the sector and the high level of deal activity.

Christie & Co Key Recent Activity
KEY TRENDS

There was a general increase in deal activity across the market.

500

We estimate that annually there are approximately 500 separate transactions in this market, excluding major M&A activity.

£250,000

Demand for private practices increased significantly with multiples of sustainable EBITDA increasing, particularly for larger practices with an EBITDA of more than £250,000. Demand for NHS practices was still very strong, although buyers were more sensitive to UDA underperformance than in previous years.

Larger practices were in particular demand as multiple practice owners continued to develop the ‘hub and spoke’ model.

Specialist and referral practices were more sought after, with an increase in multiples paid providing the vendor and other specialists remained with the practice post completion.

A number of new corporate purchasers were formed with funding, either from private equity or through debt facilities to take advantage of the ‘buy and build’ opportunity that exists.

There was increased interest in the sector from private equity investors although this has been curtailed by a lack of group acquisition opportunities and credible management teams.

Deal terms became more generous to vendors with a general reduction in the amount of deferred consideration caused by increased market competition, particularly where a Principal dentist agrees to tie in for a longer period.

A fall-off in demand and therefore prices paid for practices occurred in more remote locations where the recruitment of dentists is more challenging.

PRICE INDICES

A 12.3% increase in prices paid for dental practices was reported in our Business Outlook 2018 report.

Last year saw record demand for dental practices with prices for most types of practices rising across the board. We reported an increase in prices paid of 12.3%, lower than in 2016 but still a healthy increase. Supply in the market continued to be a challenge for buyers, whether first-time buyers or expanding groups with frenzied bidding for the better quality and located practices.

Banks remained very keen to lend and view the dental market as a green-light sector, attracted by low risk of impairment and the security of income with opportunities to grow revenue through the up-selling of private treatments. Our colleagues at Christie Finance received offers from 40 different lenders in the previous year.

As in previous years, the largest concentrations generally saw the strongest level of demand with recruitment being a factor in the underperformance of significant numbers of NHS contracts, particularly in the more remote regions of the UK.

*Please note that total staff costs include hygienist and therapist costs.
There is clear comparable evidence that groups sell for a premium multiple compared to single assets.

The heat maps and charts set out our analysis of dental practice sales over the last six months and new deals agreed in the same period to give the most up to date reading on the market. Practices have been grouped with reference to geography, type and size.

We have also separated smaller practices with a turnover of less than £600,000 (which are likely to be owner/Principal run) from larger, Associate led practices to reflect the difference in operating margins and multiples paid.

Smaller practices, particularly those with an NHS contract (England and Wales) still tend to be priced by purchasers on a multiple of turnover whereas buyers of larger practices are generally more sophisticated and adopt a multiple of EBITDA.

NHS and mixed practices generally achieve higher EBITDA multiples. It is notable that multiples for fully private practices have increased in the last 12 months at a greater rate than other types.

The EBITDA used to calculate the multiple paid reflects the actual performance of the business. We make no adjustments to staff costs or Associate rates unless the vendor has specifically committed to adjusting the cost base to this level prior to completion. This follows the market which is particularly sensitive to any such adjustments.

The multiples expressed are averages and are representative (generally) of the market, however, can be influenced by factors like:

- The sample size in a particular region or practice type
- An EBITDA which is significantly higher/lower than normal
- A purchaser with a special interest in acquiring a particular practice willing to pay a premium
- The timeline of a sale being constrained due to impairment or other reasons

Challenges for the Dental Sector

There are many factors that can influence the timing of a dental transaction such as:

- Specialist solicitors – there are too few specialists relative to demand. We also find that non-specialist solicitors can cause unnecessary delays as they try to get up to speed on the nuances of NHS contract transfers and other specialist areas.

- Finance – whilst a good number of banks are keen to lend to the sector, the debt-raising process is a transaction in itself, which requires an independent valuation and underwriting process involving third party solicitors for the lender to validate the loan.

- Property – landlords need satisfaction that an incoming tenant is creditworthy and references are needed as part of the application for ‘licence to assign’. Often leases can be quite short which means that new terms need to be negotiated with the landlord involving a premium being paid and/or a rent review.

- NHS contract transfer and CQC – unless an NHS contract (England and Wales) is incorporated it can only be transferred through the ‘partnership route’. This ties in closely with the CQC. Agreeing on a strategy with both buyer and seller (and advisors) in terms of who does what is absolutely vital or weeks can be added to the sale time. Where there is an NHS contract in place, a signed copy will always be required – this can often lead to delays if it is necessary to obtain a fresh copy from the LAT.

- The SPA/BTA – the contract which transfers ownership of assets or shares in a limited company can be relatively easy to negotiate, particularly if the solicitor drafting takes a balanced view. Matters such as retentions, net asset target calculations (share sales) warranties and indemnities all form part of this. Share sales are increasingly common and can be quicker as sometimes there is no need to get a landlord’s consent.

- Associate agreements – where a Principal is remaining, his/her terms will need to be agreed including remuneration and restrictive covenants.

Share sales of private practices are generally the shortest transactions

TRANSACTION TIMESCALES

The majority of dental practice transactions complete within 6 months

THE ASSOCIATE SHORTAGE

Our consultancy team is currently undertaking a detailed study of the UK labour market

The dental labour market, in particular, the recruitment of dentists of suitable quality is emerging as a key issue that the sector must address. The significant delay experienced by new dentists in receiving NHS “performer numbers” led to a lack of NHS dentists and the underperformance of many NHS contracts that had previously achieved UDA targets. Generally, the more remote regions of the UK have been experiencing challenging recruitment conditions for a while but this is now emerging as an issue in more densely populated areas too.

A lack of dentists will inevitably put upward pressure on pay scales and could lead to margin erosion.

Our consultancy team is currently undertaking a detailed study of the labour market and will publish our report this summer. We will be commenting on a number of key trends in the sector including:

- To what extent is there an under-supply of Associates and how is the industry reacting to this challenge?
- How the more challenging recruitment environment is affecting pay scales in both NHS and private dentistry regionally?
- The role of therapists and hygienists in the future
- The anticipated impact of Brexit on the supply of EU dentists
- KPI and cost benchmarking
